

Interior Designer - Mid-Level

Seattle's leading hospitality design firm is seeking full-time permanent interior designers who have demonstrated excellence in their career and are looking for a creative environment dedicated to design excellence.

We are a design-oriented, medium sized firm specializing in hotel and resort design and multi-family projects that have a hospitality component. Our work is evenly divided between architecture and interior design - new construction and renovation. In keeping with our concept of integrated architecture and interior design, we are looking for professionals who are comfortable working in both. Projects are located in prime markets throughout the United States with a heavy emphasis on the West Coast.

Our standard for excellence begins with our people. Please see our Team Page on our website for a description of D&D DNA - personal attributes that we value. We offer competitive compensation and a great benefit's package. Salary will depend on your experience.
